

INSPIRE FUTURE ENVIRONMENTAL STEWARDS

I've brought students to TFT for over 15 years. The academic knowledge my students gain along with the wealth of buy-in for their natural resources and potential careers is worth every penny.

I am forever grateful for the opportunity our future leaders experience all they do here at TFT.

YOUR SUPPORT MAKES A LASTING IMPACT

At Trees For Tomorrow in Eagle River, Wisconsin, we believe that environmental education is essential for fostering responsible stewardship of our natural resources. Every year, we inspire thousands of students, teachers, and community members to learn about the interconnectedness of ecosystems, wildlife, and sustainable forestry. By providing day and multi-day overnight experiences we immerse students in nature, and provide hands-on outdoor learning experiences that inspire a deeper understanding and appreciation for the environment. In addition to our on-campus programs, we offer outreach initiatives that bring forest and wildlife education directly to schools and organizations across Wisconsin.

Engaging hands-on programs in the outdoors that focus on sustainability and the science of nature.

Serving 5,000 K12 students in the Great Lakes states every year, plus thousands of families and adults.

Cultivating the next generation of industry employees, landowners advocates and leaders.
